"THE ONE HUNDRED"

Are Moving Briskly in Their Campaign for Improved Municipal Governmental Conditions - Soliciting Committees Named.

The "Committee of One Hundred" people are moving briskly in their campaign for improved municipal governmental conditions. Since the open meeting last week, Chairman Russell has appointed the several committees decided upon. On the finance committee he named Messrs. George A. Mathion, W. B. Hicks, Morris Horkheimer, James McAdams, W. M. List, S. B. McKee, F. E. McCoy, J. N. Dowler, representing the several wards of the city. The committee organized by selecting the following officers: Chairman, F. E. McCoy; secretary, George J. Mathison; tressurer, J. N. Dowier.

At the meeting of the finance committee last night, it was decided to make a minimum assessment of $5 on each member, and in addition to the membership of the committee an invitation is to be extended to all other citizens to contribute to the campaign fund. To solicit these contributions in each ward the following sub-committees on solicitation were named: First ward-George J. Mathison, W.

Wingerter, Richard S. Fair, Third ward-Morris Horkheimer, Dr. Andrew Wilson, Judge G. L. Cranmer, louse, M. F. Glesey. Sixth ward-S. B. McKee, Joseph M. Weidner, D. F. McKinley. Seventh ward-F. E. McCoy, Myron Hubbard, W. H. Chapman.

George A. Wells, S. P. Parker, Chris

Fifth ward-W. M. List, John Water-

Eighth ward—J. N. Dowler, Louis Hoelsche, Rev. R. R. Bigger. These sub-committees are to make personal canvass of the city.

"Rags" on the Rampage.

"Rags," the canine with the hum: perceptions, owned by Peter Haberstick, evidently swallowed a foolish powder yesterday, as he ran amuck in the restaurant of Held & Haberstick and culminated his wild performance by crashing into a large cheval mirror in the rear of the restaurant. The glass was broken by the jolt and now "Rags" hangs his head and looks forlorn for he contemplated seven years bad luck. The mirror is said to be the largest in the city and was valued at $150.

A Surprise Party.

The Ladies of the Golden Eagle tendered a delightful surprise party on Mrs. Katie Reuff, at her home on Twenty-eighth street, Monday evening. The occasion was her thirty-eighth birth-A. Wilson, Frank Stanton.

REMARKRBLE MEMORY FEATS

That Astonished the Audience-Kaiser and Danford Win Games at Checkers.

Lovers of chess and checkers were given a treat yesterday afternoon and vening at Odd Fellows' hall, by Mr. H. I. Pillsbury, the recognized champion and master of chess of the United States, in an exhibition of blindfolded simultaneous playing.

Mr. Pilisbury arrived in the city yesterday morning from Pittsburgh, where he played on Tuesday. He was brough to this city and played under the ausoices of the Wheeling chess clubs, including the Woodsdale, Island and

During the afternoon Mr. Pillsbury lefeated Professor C. E. Githens, Wellsburg; J. W. Ewing, Judge T. J. Hugus, Rev. C. B. Austin, A. W. Paull and J. C. Percy, of Wheeling, three games each. Irwin Pauli succeeded in making a draw and losing two games. At checkers, Mr. George A. Kaiser, the local expert, succeeded in winning two of three games, while William Det-weller lost two. The games were played with Mr. Pillsbury facing the wall.

The evening exhibition was very interesting, Mr. Pillsbury playing against Sam Mathews, James W. Ewing, David McKeown, Professor C. E. Githens, J. C. Percy, Irwin Paull, H. P. McCrea, of Parkersburg; Arthur Hugus, John J. Cavenaugh, A. W. Paull, Fred W. Colmar and Dr. F. J. LeMoyne Hupp, at chess, winning two games from each of the players, while the checker players were George A. Kniser, William Detweiler, of Wheeling, and W. E. Danford, of Bellaire, who were more suc cessful. Kaiser drew two and lost one. Detweiler drew one and lost two, while Danford drew one and won one. Workman, of Bellaire, played with Mr. Danford.

The marvelous memory of Mr. Pills bury was tested during several plays made by Wheeling players in calling wrong plays, and each time, sitting with his back to the board, he corrected the local men to the amazement of the onlookers. He also called the positions of the chess men on the board of an unfinished game, as well as an unfinished game of checkers.

Professor C. E. Githens, who is president of the West Virginia Chess Association, in discussing chess, said he felt very much encouraged over the interest manifested in the game throughout the state. Clubs have been organized in Martinsburg, Bluefield, Moundsville, Charles-Town, Wellsburg, Pledmont, Bramwell and three clubs in Ohio coun-ty, the Wheeling, Island and Woodsdale clubs. West Virginia is develop-ing some able players.

Mr. Pillshury, who will contest in the international match at Vienna, in March, representl g the United States, night for Cincinnati, where he plays to-

Mr. Pillsbury, before leaving the city, in an interview with an Intelligencer man, stated that the Wheeling players had improved wonderfully in playing since his visit here last year.

Milkmen Elect Officers.

The West Virginia Milk Men's Asso ciation have elected the following officers: President, Thomas Montgomery; vice president, W. Steel; treasurer, Louis Dimmey; financial secretary, Milton Montgomery; corresponding secretary, W. Crisswell; directors, John Fischer, Carl McComas, W. Dimmey, Gilbert McColloch, Archie Acker and Carl Grandlich; committee on purchase of feed, Thomas Montgomery, W. Steel and Charles McComas. This association has been purchasing hay and corn in car lots since the recent advance in price. A very handsome surplus was reported and the stockholders decided on a division by voting a stock dividend of three shares for one.

McFadden-Parkinson.

Last evening, at Moundsville, at the home of the bride, occurred the wed-ding of Mr. Silas Martin McFadden to Miss Cora Parkinson, sister of Mayor J. C. Parkinson. The ceremony was pronounced by Rev. W. B. King, of the pronounced by Rev. W. B. King, of the M. E. church, in the presence of fifty relatives and friends, including the members of the Twentieth Century Club, of Moundaville, of which the bride is a foremost member. After the wedding dinner, Mr. and Mrs. McFadden left for a trip to Pennsylvania.

The Justice Shops.

Before Squire M. J. Fitzpairlek, the charge preferred against Annie Costello, of being a person not of good fame, was dismissed on condition she leave the city at once.

Mrs. Russel Dead.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at her home on Twenty-fourth street, occurred the death of Mrs. Mary Russel, wife of Charles Russel. Mrs. Russel had given birth to a child orly two weeks before her death. Her death will be mourned by a wide circle of friends. by whom she was held in high esteem The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Doc Quigley, he of the eccentric mien and equally eccentric legs, is with the Al. G. Field greater minstrels again this season and scoring heavily and steadily, just as he always did Many men can be funny in voice and gesture, few can make their legs serve the same ends. Doc Quigley is one of the men who can. To see him cross the stage would bring a laugh from a graven image. Assisting him are Bob Keyes, James Devlin, Jean Elliott, Billy Cawley and a corps of other black face funny fellows, who will give the genuine southern shuffles in all their perasing variations. Dancing is always popular and the more so since artists like Doc Quigley have pushed it to the front. It forms as usual, one of the popular features of the Al. G. Little Irene Myers, the talented and versatile child actress who has been delighting large audiences at the Grand has appeared this week in excellenhas appeared this week in excellent plays, but in none was she afforded such opportunities as are presented in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which will be to-day's matinee bill. Her work will be a revelation to those who have not seen her in the title role in this famous production. She also has a strong, but not so prominent a part in "The Stowaway," which will be given to-night. Miss Myers and other members of the company will introduce specialties be tween acts of both plays.

"Hearts of Oak."

It is said that in writing his plays, James A. Herne takes the quaint characters from similar people in real life who come under his notice; thus, in "Hearts of Oak," Owen Garroway was "Hearts of Oak," Owen Garroway was a fisherman with whom he had come in contact many years ago and whose characteristics have been perpetuated in the play. So too, in "Shore Acres" Uncle Nat and other persons represented had their living prototypes from the coast of Maine. In his new play, "Sag Harbor," the principal part, the one Mr. Herne plays himself, is that of a bluft old sailor and Mr. Herne had in mind when he drew the character, the captain of a sailing vessel which plies between Sag Harbor and the Connecticut shore on Long Island Sound. "Hearts of Oak" will be at the Opera House, this afternoon and to-night.

A Masquerade Ball.

Friday evening, at the Pythian Cas-tie, South Side, the Clarion Club, a well known social organization, will give a masquerade ball, with music by Prof. Long. Prizes for the dancers have been provided by the club.
